Under the harmonious working of the State militia and the local police force, much order has come out of the State militia and the local po-loc force, much order has come out of resterday's chaos following the fatal torm which swept portions of this city. A careful revision of the death list places the total number of dead in dirmingham and vicinity at seventeen. Birmingham and vicinity at seventeen.
Thirty-five persons were more or less seriously hurt, but their number is being augmented by the addition of many names of persons who were alightly bruised.

Today's beautiful weather was apparently an incentive to active effort, and the storm-stricken district presented a busy scene. the Importation of the Drug.

(BT DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMER.)

NEW YORK, March 26.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Cocaineism, alcoholism and morphineism are the three great scourges of the world, according to Dr. Thomas D. Crothers of Hartford, Ct. Customhouse reports, the doctor said in his lecture before the New York School of Clinical Medleine, show an enormous increase recently in the importations of cocaine. The vice is spreading among the poor as well as the rich, as the drug is becoming cheap. An ounce package, which less than five years ago cost about 35, carnow be purchased for 75 cents. One result of the cheapening is that the cocaine habit is becoming common among tramps and paupers, as well as among business and professional men.

Dr. Crothers regards the use of the drug, even as a local anesthetic for surgical purposes, as exceedingly dangerous. Its first effects in small doses are to create a feeling of elation and of freedom from care and anxiety. Then come delusions. The victim fears a sudden attack; he sits up at night watching for burglars; he is fearful of excidents, and abnormally suspicious of imaginary persecutors. Most of the victims at this stage carry revolvers.

Harriman and Securities-Green Seeking Hays-Blackfoot Line.

(BY DIT CT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

[BY DIF CT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Russell Sage has warned George Gould against attempting to become a railroad magnate, hinting that there are those who would never permit him to become a power in railroad affairs. Sage said:

"Mr. Gould has a laudable ambition to become a great railroad magnate, but if he should attempt this, he would invite opposition that may prove formidable. Railroads can be built now for much less money than formerly. There is too much capital in the country. While unity of interests was being accomplished and roads in big territory were being brought under one head, twenty men in Wall street could go to work, build an air-line road between the principal points and render many of the feeders of a big system unproductive.

The entire student body turned out to hear the distinguished visitor. At the close an informal reception was ten-dered President Hedley, the faculty and their wives.
In his address, Prof. Hadley said:

"We educators must, to use one popular term, form an educational trust, we must broaden our investigations and develop our graduate students. In some universities there is a theory that in order to have a teacher stimulated on any line, the best work in that line must be done within 500 yards of where he is teaching. This is a narrow policy which is rapidly losing ground. There is no reason why the best work done at one university should not be a source of such inspiration to all other universities. We should be proud rather than fearful of our rivals.

A ledge 16 feet wice has just been uncovered, and as de-velopment proceeds the find grows larger. The ledge is what is known as a true fissure vein, occurring be-tween walls of sandstone and serpen-tine, with black clay and slate, known among quicksilver miners as "black alta."

A conservative estimate says some of the ore will average as high as $800 a ton, and the local quicksilver world is much excited over the discovery. The location of the new find is thre mile sfrom Tres Pinos, the nearest railroad station, and but a short dis-tance from the New Idria properties.

STRUGGLED OFF THE CAR.

Sister Mary Frances Tries to Save the Demented Sister Augustine and Loses Her Life in Consequence.

sive Dispatch.] Among the passengers on the Southern Pacific train which left Lake Charles, La., east-bound, shortly after midnight, were Sister Augustine and Sister Mary Frances, two Carmelite nuns from Hallettsville, Tex. Sister Augustine had become demented, and her companion was taking mented, and her companion was taking her to her mother's house in New Orleans for treatment.

When the train was two miles east of Lake Charles, Sister Augustine arose from her seat and started for one end of the car. Sister Frances, one end of the car. Sister Frances, noticing that she did not stop at the water cooler, sprang after her. Sister Augustine walked rapidly to the platform and attempted to throw herself from the train, which was running forty miles an hour. Sister Frances grappled with her, and called for help. There was a brief, terrible struggle on the swaying platform, and before help could reach them both of the sisters had fallen, the wild strength of the maniac having conquered.

Sister Augustine was found to be unhurt, but her devoted companion was

CHILEAN CLAIMS.

WASHINGTON, March 27.-The Chilean Claims Commission promises to break all records in the rejection or claims. In all there were eighteen claims presented, sixteen by the United States and two by Chile, asgregating something over $3,000,000. Of these, eight have been decided, and the total allowances are $5000 against Chile and $3000 against the United Chile and $3000 against the United States. One of the chief cases against Chile involved upward of $1,000,000, and its disallowance in toto makes an important reduction in the aggregate. The allowance in favor of the United States was that for an American citizen arrested in Chile some fifty years ago. The allowance in favor of Chile grew out of complications in one of the consular offices.

The most important case is that of the ship Itata which, during the Chilean troubles some years ago, left San Diego, Cal., with alleged arms and contraband goods on board. Chile has made a large claim for this alleged breach of neutrality. The case will be about the last one disposed of. It is expected that two months.

The United States government is ponstrained to rest its commercial rights on its emphatic declaration in the last year which it believes cannot be disregarded by Russia or any other nation. These declarations of the American position before the world sere contained in Secretary Hay's first note regarding the "open door" in China. The decision of the United States not to intervene in the present prisis is further strengthened by the pordial assent of all the powers to the assertions of American policy in the memorable note of July 3 last.

The third and final reason which has led the United States to withhold its intervention rests on a hitherto unpublished, but brief and very important diplomatic incident. It is now lisclosed that the United States has filed an ineffective protest no longer

Telegraphic instructions sent to the upresentatives of the United States in Vienna, Paris, London, Rome, Tokyo Petersburg. ARTMENT OF STATE, Washmarch 1, 1901.—The following nemorandum, which was handed to the hinese Minister on February 19, is ransmitted to you for your information and communication to the government to which you are accredited:

"The preservation of the territorial integrity of China having been recognised by all the powers now engaged in joint negotiation concerning the injuries recently inflicted upon their uninisters and nationals by certain officials and subjects of the Chinese empire, it is evidently advantageous to China to continue the present international understanding upon this subject. It would be, therefore, unwise and dangerous in the extreme to force China to make any arrangement or consider any proposition of a private nature, involving the surrender of territory or financial obligations by convention with any particular power; and the government of the United States, aiming solely at the preservation of China from the danger indicated and the conservation of the largest and most beneficial relations between the empire and other countries, in accordance with the principles set forth in its circular note of July 3, 1900, and in a burely friendly spirit toward the Chinese empire and all the powers now interested in the negotiations desires to express its sense of the impropriety, inexpediency and even extreme danger to the interests of China of considering any private territorial or financial arrangements, at least without the full knowledge and approval of all the powers now engaged in negotiation.

[Signed]

Assuming that the arrangement is to be carried out, it is still the contention of the State Department that nothing has occurred to change the status of the United States toward—the "open door" as applied to any part of China, including Manchuria. As far as written pledges can commit a power, Russia stands pledged to accord to the United States the "open door," even if she takes control of Manchuria, airched in its in violation of the spirit, if not the letter, of the general understanding to which all the powers subscribed last summer, and the United States government is prepared to use all its moral suasion and influence to prevent its consummation. Further than that, however, this government is not prepared to go. The President and members of the Cabinet believe it is conceivable that Russia is entitled, perhaps, to some conceivable that Russia is entitled, perhaps, to some separate guarantees from China for the protection of its railroad concession in Manchurfa, but not to the extent which it is understood the Czar's government is to obtain b ythis secret treaty. This government has information regarding this treaty, and while there is no indication of the exact nature or source of this information, it is considered accurate and definite. The President and Cabinet, it is understood, have no direct information concerning the imminent rupture between Russia and Japan, or its extent, but the developments are being watched with eager interest. Generally, it is not believed here there will be a collision between the two powers, as there is a strong she would be joined by any of the other powers.

The news from the Philippines, as communicated to the Cabinet by Secretary Root, continues not only reassuring, but much more favorable than could have been anticipated.

The President informed the members of the Cabinet that he had sent for P. C. Knox of Pittsburgh, who was in Southern California, and that upon his arrival here, on Thursday, it was his intention to formally offer him the Attorney-Generalship.

LONDON, March 27.—The Morning
Post, in the course of a sarcastic editorial dealing with the memorandum of the United States government on the Manchurian convention, says: "The only thing that can bring the powers together in support of China against is no sign."

The Daily Chronicle, discussing the

PUZZLES FOR UNCLE SAM.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.)

WASHINGTON. March 26.—While WASHINGTON, March 26.—While attention has been centered upon the crisis connected with the Manchurla agreement, an entirely new and important phase of the Chinese question has been presented by the action of the ministers in Peking in agreeing yesterday to submit to their various governments whether articles 8 and 9 of the Chinese protocol shall be carried out BERLIN, March 26.—Dr. Steubel, director of the Colonial Department, has started for London to assist in expediting the conclusion of the negotiations regarding the indemnity to be demanded of China. Dr. Steubel was selected for this task by the Chancelor, Count Von Buelow, because he was formerly Consul-General for Germany at Shanghai, and is especially conversant with Chinese affairs.

Dr. Steubel will also assist the German Embassy in London in the settlement of German claims for losses in South Africa. Chinese protocol shall be carried out by the military authorities of all the powers interested in China, or only by those powers who are continuing to powers interested in China, or only by those powers who are continuing to take part in the application of those articles. The action of the ministers has been communicated to several of the foreign embassies and legations here, and doubtless Mr. Rockhill has made or will make known the same facts. The articles in question are as follows:

Von Waldersee, dated Peking, March 25, says Maj. Von Muelmann's detachof Tao-Ma-Kuan, March 22 and March 24, and dispersed them with slight re munication between Peking and the sea.

"Article 9—The right to maintain occupation of certain points, to be determined by an understanding among the powers, in order to obtain open communication between the capital and the sea."

These two questions appear to involve territorial affairs, and it may become of considerable moment whether the determination of such affairs is to be left with the military authorities of all the powers, or only with such powers as continue their military forces in China.

tion of the strength of the military forces to be concentrated there in the future by the powers. It is also possible that an affirmative decision which would exclude the United States from participation in the discussion on this important point might be extended to put us out of China altogether.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The Chinese Minister left for New York this morning, where he takes part today in the ceremonies connected, with the Baron Hirsch memorial. Up to the time of his departure, Wu had received no word from Peking as to the final course to be taken on the Manchurian agreement.

Since Minister Wu's return here from Chicago he has held several conferences with Secretary Hay, each time in reference to the Manchuria treaty, the last one of yesterday being in line with WASHINGTON, March 26.-The Chi last one of yesterday being in line with those before in seeking to develop the purposes of this and other powers those before in seeking to develop ine purposes of this and other powers. There is reason to believe that some of the cable dispatches stating that the Chinese ministers at various capitals have made a final appeal of protest, rather misapprehend the real purpose of the Chinese representations, which have not been so much by way of protest as they have been of inquiry as to whether the great powers unitedly and firmly would support China in case she took the serious responsibility of refusing to sign the agreement with Russaf. The general result of these inquirles has been to show that while the powers did not approve the agreement, they were not ready to commit themselves to backing up China in a firm rejection of the Russian proposal and the consequent breach between Russia and China.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M. WASHINGTON, March 26.-Relativ washinofton, march ze.-Relative to the claims of several cities on the Pacific Coast for the privilege of being the point of shipment of troops and supplies to the Philippines, Secretary Root said that it was not necessary to maintain a large terminal plant for government transports, and it was not possible to maintain more than one on the Pacific Coast.

Gen. Bird of the Quartermaster's Department after a thorough investigation had found that troops could be sent from San Francisco, more advantageously than by the northern route from the cities of the North Pacific. The Secretary said that other ports would be utilized for shipment of supplies whenever it was found advantageous to the government to do so.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

New Army Ration. WASHINGTON, March 26.—President McKinley today approved the new army ration prepared under the direction of Gen. Weston, chief commissary. The principal change is in the increase for the sugar ration, being twenty pounds to each 100 rations, instead of fifteen pounds as heretofore. The vinegar component, which was 6.25 of a gill, is changed by allowing half of that amount in cucumber pickles, when desired. In the fruit component, 12-5 ounces of jam is allowed for the field ration, in place of 13-5 ounces of dried or evaporated fruit, which is the allowance for the garrison ration. A change is made in the travel ration by allowing the canned tomatoes to be served on the first day, instead of the fourth as heretofore. WASHINGTON, March 26.-Pre-

Ta Pay Hawaii's Debt.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—W. F. McLennon, chief of the warrant division, and W. W. Ludlow, one of the officials in the Auditor's office, Treasury Department, will sail for Honolulu about the middle of April for the purpose of paying the bonded debt of the Islands, which payment was authorized by the resolution of annexation and provided for by an appropriation made by the last Congress. The present debt amounts to about $3,200,000, of which $800,000 is held in London. The Hawaiian bolders will receive thirty days' notice of the contemplated payment, and the London holders about three months, at the expiration of which time the interest will cease.

Argentine's Wool Duty.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The Argentine government has reduced the export duty on wool 331-3 per cent. Consul Ayres at Rocarlo says that the woolen industry has been paralysed, and owing to shrinkage in valuation, export duty really has been increased from 4 to 6 per cent.

NEW YORK, March 26.—At a meeting of the general committee, composed of representatives from the leading amateur athletic organizations of the United States and Canada, in charge of the project to provide a lot in Woodland Cemetery and to crect thereon a monument in honor o the late William B. Curtis, "the father of athletics," who perished from exposure on Mt. Washington, held at the New York Athletic Club house last night, A. G. Millis of the New York Athletic Club, chairman of the Preliminary Committee, raported the collection of about $2000 toward the monument, in addition to $1200 paid for the cemetery lot. The design of the monument recommended by the committee was adopted. It was decided to hold the dedication ceremonies early in October. The monument is to be of granite, in the form of a Greek sarcophagus. It will bear the inscription, "A tribute from the amateur athletes of America."

Present Agitation Considered Only the Beginning of More Serious Trouble-Minister of Interior Blames Police and Orders Severe Measures.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.) LONDON, March 26 .- [By Atlantic Cable.] A dispatch from St. Peters-burg to Reuter's Telegram Agency says that in consonance with the what is believed to be the Czar's expressed wish the Minister of Interior has published instructions for the author-ities of the towns and provinces, recommending preventive measures against disturbance, as being more effective than severe repression after disturbances have been started.

The Birmingham Post, which is closely in touch with Joseph Chamberlain, says news received in high quar-ters in London indicates that the Czar ters in London indicates that the Cast is in a nervous state, owing to the con-dition of the political horizon. It is said that he fears the result of the policy of his ministers in the Far East, while the student troubles and threats against his life, of which there are against his life, or which there are more than have been published, have completely unnerved His Majesty. His medical advisers have strongly counseled a yachting cruise, but the Czar has refused to follow their advice. Those behind the scenes in Russia take a very grave view of the present agitation and think it is the beginning of more serious trouble.

MINISTER BLAMES POLICE. ST. PETERSBURG, March 26.—A circular issued by the Minister of the Interior blames the police for not crushing the demonstrations at the outset by the dispersion of gathering crowds. It is said the police must learn shere and when demonstrations are planned and mass their force there. Above all order must be restored at any cost and the authorities must not fear to use the necessary force and severity. The military, the circular further says, can be called upon when firing is necessary and the cavalry may be summoned upon any occasion to clear the streets. The Russian Authors' Mutual Association, founded by the Russian Literary Society, has been ordered to close its premises, owing to a protest of the authorities during the recent riots, issued a short time ago.

Mrs. Holly paused. The dignity and unaccustomed quiet and seriousness of her manner as she spoke of her old acquaintance had before been noticeable to Eisie, and she looked up at her friend with a little surprise.

"My dear, maybe you can hardly believe it, when I'm so different from him. Of course, I know that, and looking different now, too, from when I was twenty. But he loved me. Yes. Our house was near theirs, so he used to come often to leave messages with my brother to take to the office, and to see him about their business, and in that way he came to care very much for me. He even spoke to me about it. He told me that he wanted me to know that if he could ever help me in any way I must ask him. He spoke to my mother, too, about that. He was such a responsible person—you can't think. He was s' used to taking care of people and s' interested in what would happen to me. He knew I would marry; and so he talked to me about that. He wanted me to be certain to marry a good man."

pen to me. He knew I would marry; and so he talked to me about that. He wanted me to be certain to marry a good man."

"I think that was very fine in him." Eisle looked at the photograph, its deep, inward eyes, the eyes of one who had no very clear perception of the outer world, and she saw plainly how a man, serious, poetic, of high conceptions, could have been unenvious of any of her friend's qualifies, but those that were excellent and beautiful.

"Where was he when he died?" Eisle asked after a little while.

"Oh, he was insane for two years before he died. It was a long time ago; nearly twenty years ago. But he had put by enough to have the mother and brother taken care of. He was so afraid he would have to leave them a burden to some one—but he didn't. I was so giad of that."

They sat for a while in silence. The rain had stopped; the co'clock whistles were blowing and sounding through the city, and Elsie knew she must go. She and Mrs. Holly parted with tenderness and understanding, and she walked home with the photograph of Mr. Allerton still in her mind.

At the present rate of progress we may expect soon world as a health resort—the great semi-tropic sanitarium of the Western Hemisphere, The change that has been wrought is certainly little short of miraculous. American sanitary science has won one of its grandest triumphs

The revised report of Maj. Gorgan for the month of February has just been issued. From this report it ap-pears that the deaths in Havana for the month aggregated 408, being very much fewer than in any February of minimum February death rate, prior to 1893, when there were 446 deaths. The deaths for February of this year is not only less than those of any February since 1890, but actually less than those years, the lowest in any month being 444 deaths in November, 1900. The average number of deaths per month

The average death rate per thousand for February of this year was 19.32. The significance of these figures will be better appreciated when it is stated ish rule, that of 1898, the death rate was 82.32 per thousand. As is pointed out in the sanitary officer's report, many of the cities of the United States rate than that of Havana. According to the latest figures, Baltimore, with a population of 508,957, for the week ending January 26, had 225 deaths, a death rate of 22.99; Cincinnati (population 326,000,) for the week ending January 25, had 142 deaths, a death rate of 22.65: Boston (population 560 -892,) for the week ending January 26, had 260 deaths, a death rate of 24.10; Jacksonville (population 33,600,) for the week ending January 19, had 16 deaths, a death rate of 25.21: Newark. > CANADA'S DIVORCE LAWS. While in many of the States of the American Union there is a growing demand for more stringent divorce laws, the case is different in the Dominio of Canada. There the divorce laws are exceedingly stringent, amounting in that in the census year 1900 there were thirty-one beet-sugar factories in operation in the United States. These vere distributed among ten States and one Territory, and represented an invested capital of $20,958,519. The total product was 71,427 long tons of beet sugar, valued at $7,323,857. Considering the amount of capital invested, this is a small product. But this unfavorable showing is due in large part to the fact that the census year was a isastrous year for the beet-sugar crop. It may be mentioned as a more favorable indication that at the close of the census year the existence of thirtybeet-sugar factories was reported. These had a nominal daily capacity of 22,310 short tons of beets, and were capable of manufacturing 240,000 short tons of sugar annually.

census," says the report, "covers the period of greatest activity in this inustry, and may almost be said to have witnessed its birth as a successful manufacturing enterprise." Dr. Spencer eports, as a result of his exhaustive nvestigations, that the manufacture of beet sugar may now be regarded as a commercial success in the United States. When the census of 1890 was taken there were only two beet-sugar actories in operation in the United States, and their total product mounted in value to only $340,000 Thus, it appears, the industry showed a steady and healthy growth during the decade from 1890 to 1900.

$50,000 deposit provision. The bill, which was a part of the new code, waz promptly reëngrossed, again signed by the President and Speaker and sent in proper shape to the Governor for signature.

The last sessions of the committee were held in a private room at the Hotel Adams Saturday night and Sunday. Though the proceedings were supposed to be secret, it has been reported from a trustwortily source that Legislative Postmaster James Park directly charged one of the legislators with having received $2500 bribe money to secure the changes in the bill. A fast fight between two contradictory witnesses, who were being examined at the same time, was prevented only by the interference of the committeemen precent. The members of the committee refuse to talk, except to admit that they are on a warm trail, but aver they will show no mercy to the guilty individual, if he can be found.

The inquiry is one: that was commenced by the Council itself, which sat on the matter, in executive session, for a day and evening, but without definite result, though every person was examined who could have had any interest in the bill, or who had had the handling of it at any time during the time following its final reading and approval.

11 o'clock balloting was steadily maintained without a nomination. There was a falling off in the vote for Edward Rosewater and a gain for George Meiklejohn. The 11 o'clock ballot resulted: Rosewater, 27; Meiklejohn, 20; Curry, 7; Baldridge, 1.

During the balloting a communication was received from the nine men who refused to enter the caucus. In effect the bolters agreed to abide by the decision of the caucus if it would undo the work of a week ago, and nominate any two men eliminating the name of D. E. Thompson. There were other propositions which were not disclosed. The caucus at 11 o'clock took name of B. E. Thompson. There were other propositions which were not disclosed. The caucus at 11 o'clock took a recess to consider the nominations. The prospect tonight is regarded as unfavorable to any sort of agreement or the election of either Senator before the expiration of the legislative session at midnight Thursday. Great Example Set by George Peabody.

He Gave Millions to Aid Education.

Unlike Andrew Carnegie, He Thought More of Books Than of Buildings.

WASHINGTON, March 20.-The olny washington, March 20.—The olny american who ever even faintly approached the munificence of Andrew Carnegie in giving away money for the good of the masses of the people of the country was George Peabody, after whom the town of Peabody started over by his public gifts, both in the United States and England. Like Carnegie, George Peabody started life in complete povand England. Like Carnegle, George Peabody started life in complete poverty. He was born in Danvers, Mass., which, with Salem, was the storm center of witcheraft in the old days. Up to the time that he was 19 years of age, he had bardly a dollar that he could call his own. At that time he met Elisha Riggs, who was possessed of some money, but no business capacity. It was agreed between the two that they should open up a wholesale that they should open up a wholesale dry goods store, for which Riggs was to furnish the money and Peabody the business acumen. The store was opened little while it was removed to Baltimore, where there was better chance for growth, and within seven years from the day on which the first store was opened there were branches in all of the leading cities of the East, and the firm was firmly established.

Then Peabody withdrew and found himself with exactly $5000 in cash, with which he went to London and set up the banking house of George Peabody withdrew and found himself with exactly $5000 in cash, with which he went to London and set up the banking house of George Peabody with the first store that her mother and brother vacate the mansion shortly. He replied that he thought that they could be floated in that center, and he did sell them there. His commission on the transaction was $200,000, and after collecting it in the regular course of business, he sent a check for the amount to the State of Maryland. That $200,000 was his first great public donation, and for it he received the thanks of the Legislature of Maryland, which was called into special session for the purpose.

Peabody's greatest gift in this or any other land was the donation of a total of 33,500,000 for the promotion of education among the people of the South, and the results of that work are now being felt among the southern people, who had just been thrown into most abject powerty by the War of the Rebellion. For that gift he received the thanks of Congress and a gold medal by the people of the United States.

There is not a college in the United States that was in existence during the late years of the life of George Peabody that did not receive from him donations of money. He founded the Peabody Museum of Natural History at Yale: the Professorship of American Archaeology and Ethnology at Harvard; he established the Peabody Institute at Danvers, and made gifts right and left to all educational works. All of the institutes that he founded are alive and doing splendid work today. He made provisions for their maintenance, filled them with books, and saw that they were placed in competent hands. The buildings that he erected for these institutes were never pretentious. They are all of substantial brick and brownstone, much alike, except as to size, but filled with the right kind of books. Peabody gave away during his life about 39,000,000 and died leaving an estate of 44,000,000, which was divided among his family. Many men have given more money in these latter days of larger things, but few men distributed their money so that it will do the direct education good to the people of the country, with the exception of Carnegle, who has given millions for library buildings that in over seems, or at least never, publicly expresses, any anxiety as to whether these library buildings, whereas New York is now notoriously long on buildings and short on books.

He has a white overseer, who receives as pay free lodging and some Trumpet stock. Mr. Hardupson has invested him with some of his hypnotic power so that he can manage the niggers almost as well as the president himself. It is believed that by stripping the leaves from the trees about the time the fruit ripens it would be possible to turn out the bread fruit ready baked, when it might bo sold to ships for use in place of ship biscuit, thus saving the freight on the product, and making a much larger profit.

A few days ago the janitor of the building, having noticed that the clock refused to run, or even walk, mounted a high stepladder and started to wind the timepiece with a crank key. After he had worked for five minutes, the clock appeared to be wound up, and he set the hands at about 9:15 o'clock, and started the pendulum and went about his business.

In ten minutes an employé of the office looked at the "time" and found it was 9:05 o'clock. He blinked his, eyes and looked at the clock again, and then gased out of the window to see what was the trouble with the sun. It appeared to be in its usual place, and then the puzzled man turned to the clock again and watched it.

Its hands soon pointed to 9 o'clock, and then 8:55 o'clock, and kept on their backward course, tick by tick, until they marked 8:40 o'clock, and stopped. They still mark that hour, and the employés of the office have now reconciled themselves to going to work, to lunch and to their homes in the evening at the same hour, twenty minutes to nine.

In the course of time they will become tired of the monotony and report COMPTON, March 26.—[Regular Correspondence.] The curtain is down on the bloodlest tragedy in the history of this community. Other evidence was introduced to show that before Crawford went away last summer he said he would like to shoot Mr. Stratton. It was also brought tout that Crawford said he came from Richmond, Va., and that he had an uncle named Capt. Jack Crawford.
The Coroner's inquest was held-in the cases of Stratton, Mulherron and Crawford jointly. In the cases of Stratton and Mulherron, the verdicts were that death was caused by gunshot wounds inflicted by Clarence S. Crawford, with intent to murder. In the Crawford, with intent to murder. A new library board is overdue in Los Angeles. A general impression seems to prevail that the proper time for inducting a new board into office is about the first of April, but on this point the charter is slient. It merely provides that the Mayor shall name a board of library directors immediately upon taking office, and that they shall hold office for two years, or until their successors are elected. Be all this as it may, it seems evidest that the stork is now brooding over the cradles of four infant library directors. The word "four" is used advisedly, for although there are five directors to be chosen, it is generally understood in informed circles that the chapiet of honor will again be bestowed on J. Ross Clark, brother of W. A. Clark, the Montana mining king. He was appointed but a few months agro by Mayor Snyder to succeed W. B. Mathews, who resigned to take the position of City Attorney.

Concerning the other four upon whom the executive choice will fall, Mayor Snyder is muts. Directly the subject is broached he becomes as the fabled Sphinx, which was known to be masculine, because it could keep a secret. To the importunities of the reporter the Mayor returned a deaf car, a heart of fiint and a front of adamant. And then the Mayor fied behind his "official" knowledge, which in this instance totaled to nothing.

But Dams Rumor, the extravagant hussy, with a "feel" for everybody's business, has had an ear at the keyhole of the Mayor's office. And, strange as it may seem, she has been known to hasard guesses that were not more than a mile from the truth. Upon the tip of her tongue hang the names of some well-known citizens whose friends will not shed a tear if they shall be the favored ones to sit in the chaste temple of Minerva. Among them are Lee A. Phillips, Isidore B. Dockweller, J. D. Hooker, Mrs. J. D. Hooker, Louis Grant, Mrs. C. P. Bradfield, H. W. Frank, W. M. Gariand, M. J. Newmark, Dr. E. W. Edelman and others. From among the names mentioned it is believed that a majority, if not all, of the new library board will be chosen. Mayor Snyder admitted yesterday that he may present the names to the Council next Monday, and then again he may not. The reader is invited to take a choice of these alternatives. dent that the stork is now brooding over the cradles of four infant library again he may not. The reader is invited to take a choice of these alternatives.

It is the well-known desire of Mayor Snyder to secure for the city a brandnew library building, perfectly appointed, before he retires from office. This determination to aid in every way the project for a new library building has often found expression in the Mayor's speeches. In the choice of the new board of directors it is probable that men will be picked in accordance with their estimated ability to do something practical to carry out the Mayor's expressed ambition.

Away up on the third floor of the City Hall and way back in a corner is the office of the librarian, where the directors meet. Here a loud whisper is profanation, and anything louder unknown. Around a large oak table the "bookmen" gather and engage in brown study over library problems. Before long this quiet meditative nook will know some of the present directors no more. The board now consists of M. J. Newmark, Perd K. Rule, Henry O'Melveney, F. J. Thomas and J. Ross Clark. There was a meeting there yesterday afternoon which may be the last.

Many regrets will speed after their terday afternoon which may be the fast.

Many regrets will speed after their outgoing as the board has been ever faithful to its task. The cooling, billing deves that used to light on the City Hall coping of Tuesday afternoons and gase in from the azure blue upon the deliberative pantomine will wonder with their wide eyes at the new figures soon to take charge of the musty tomes and the gathered learning of the centuries.

It is not believed that there will be any change of librarian, as Miss Mary L. Jones has made herself very popular, in the pasition and has worked with all her might to procure new Hibrary quarters while doing the best possible with the old. Miss Cella Cieason, the assistant librarian, possesses a valuable knowledge of the details and her position is regarded as secure.

POLICE BOARD.

COMMISSION GLEANINGS. The Police Commission is proud of its victory over the social clubs. When the belated report of the City Attorney reached the board yesterday through the lines of official red tape, Chief Elthe lines of official red tape. Chief Elton notified the members that two of the most disreputable places in the city have been obliged to close their doors. The opinion of the City Attorney reached him much quicker and was acted on at once. As a result, Lou simpson of the United American Club has shut up his grog shop, which masqueraded under the name "social club," for so long, and the Manhattan Club of like lik moved out bag and baggage yesterday. The result was obtained by a systematic system of espionage carried on by the Chief under the sanction of the Police Commission. Men were obliged to leave their names, and women were prevented from entering. Yesterday a man was sitting on the steps of the Manhattan Club with a dejected look on his face. "Hello," I've lost my home, replied the man, who thereupon fell to brooding over the fickleness of fortune. There is no longer "a sound of revelry by night."

The special Health Officers of the manty may wake up some morning Although nothing was done at th oard meeting regarding the saloon at the corner of Sixth and Olive streets, it seems that the proposition is flatly before Chief Elton whether the saloon is not running without a license. The Chief has been instructed to investigate the saloon at No. 106 Court street, run by Constable George Brown, although the license stands in the name of his brother, a plumber. Much criticism has attached to the attempt on the part of the constable to conduct a saloon instead of attending to his official business. What action the board can or will take in the matter is problematical.

SCHOOL SITE OFFERED.

City Board of Education May Select a Suitable Location for the New Public School Building.

Public School Building.

The City Board of Education will meet this evening, but the only matter of importance to come up is the opening of bids for a site for a new school building to be erected in the southeastern part of the city. Three offers have already been received and they must be for a lot not over two blocks from Central avenue and between Eighteenth and Twenty-sixth streets. It is the intention of the board, if it can command sufficient money, to erect a building north of East Twenty-sixth street, so as to relieve the crowded condition of the Twenty-eighth-street school.

Active work is now going on in making additions to the present school buildings on the San Pedro, Harper, University, Sixth-street and Ninth-street schools.

Supervisors Pass a Precautionary Resolution to Be in Force, Provided the New County Government Act is Signed-How it Might Work.

A resolution was adopted by the Board of Supervisors yesterday, de-claring the services of all special health officers throughout the county at an end so soon as the Governor may see fit to sign the new County Government Act This action is in the nature of a pre-caution, not because health officers ar no longer needed.

Under the present law for any unit corporated town, when public ne requires such action, the Board of Su-pervisors may appoint a special health officer, who shall in such town, unde the supervision of the County Health Officer, exercise all necessary dili-gence in executing the ordinances, rules and regulations of the Supervis-ors, and the State Board of Health re-lating to health and sanitary matters and shall receive not to exceed $16 a year. The last Legislature, however a year. The last Legislature, however, seemed to think that a salary of about $500 a year would be more in keeping with the value of these officers, and in the new act now up to the Governor is this provision: "And special health officers, when appointed as in this act provided, that not more than $500 per annum shall be paid or expended in any one year in payment of special health officers."

The county is now employing twelve special health officers, besides Dr. E. N. Mathis, the County Health Officer, who gets $1200 a year. If the new County Government Act should become a law this morning, special health officers would be entitled to $10 a day, and before the board could convene again on Monday would have served at least five days under the new regime at $10 per day. "In that time twelve such deputies would get away with $750. But Deputy District Attorney Wilburhas held, that the new provision limits the county's expenditure for special health officers to $500 a year for all of them. Wherefore, if the new act were signed this morning, these officers would have earned in five days more than the county could allow them for a whole year.

To avoid any such predicament, the above resolution was adopted by the loard, and under the new act, if it becomes a law, they will probably be dispensed with; at least, their number materially reduced. Health Officer Mathis may be compelled to appoint the betone done by them thoroughout the

the last thing to be thought of?

The fortunate individuals who are the beneficiaries of yesterday's work are Matron Bongs, the book-keeper, and the dairymen at the Poor Farm. The matron is raised from $35 a month to $50; the book-keeper from $50 to $50 and the milkman from $50 fo $50. Very respectful sainties these, when it is respectable salaries these, when it is respectable salaries these, when it is remembered that the county also furnishes these employes with their "keep." The matron is a widow, but the other two beneficiaries are said to be blessed with families. Whether the families, too, are "kept" is not known. The old salaries have been paid for several terms of the salaries have been paid for several terms. The oid salaries have been paid for several years past, and the rise comes on top of the grand jury's criticism of "an extravagant board." Two of the members, however, voted against so great an increase. They favored something like 55 per month. The "boost" was carried on a joint resolution and if one salary went up, so went the others.

VAUGHN'S CLAIM.

It is a claim for $274.51. Since the in-It is a claim for $274.51. the company, the board nas been keeping a weather eye out for something and may eventuelly disallow the entire claim. Inquiry has been made twice now, with a view to determining whether or not the various goods charged for in the claim were actually delivered to the hospital and why it is that the most expensive goods seem always to have been ordered by the doctors this year, instead of many cheaper goods, as in former years.

The investigation by the Supervisors has certainly disclosed the loosest business methods in buying drug supplies at the County Hospital.

The testimony of all witnesses, so far examined, has been to the effect that until recently no record was ever kept of drugs ordered or means employed to check those received; that no books were kept; that offers were usuelly made over the telephone by various parties and delivered by the drug company to a hospital employe at its store, without bill or memorandum, and that the only record of goods bought and received was the monthly statement of the drug company. This was the testimony last week of young Dr. A. M. Smith, assistant at the hospital, end it was the testimony of the witnesses yesterday.

The only thing that approximated a record at the hospital was a little "want" book kept by Drug Clerk E. F. Godin for his own private use in jotting down supplies that were running short; but within the last week this book has disappeared and could not be found yesterday. When Dr. Smith was examined last week, he was distinctly informed to notify Godin to be before the board with this book a week later, but Godin was not notified charged for had been ordered and de-livered. Vaughn's testimony was to the same effect. He said he was doing business with the California Hospital and other institutions in the same manner as with the County Hospital heretofore. He was represented by his attorney, J. W. McKinley, Esq., who finally told the board that, from the evidence in-troduced, the claim should be allowed. But Deputy District Attorney Wilbur asserted that no evidence on the vital point had yet been heard, and the matter was taken under further ad-visement.

DOWNS CONTROVERSY.

EX-WIFE GETS A JUDGMENT. Effie F. Downs, formerly of Whitties was in Judge Allen's department of the Superior Court yesterday with a griev-ance against her divorced husband, J.

In July, 1899, their married life became unbearable, and they signed an agreement of separation, to be in force during their marital obligations whereby they were to live apart and whereby they were to live apart and the husband was to pay her $40 a month for support, Afterward she went East, and he stopped his monthly pay-ments after the first remittance. She swears that he induced her to visit her mother and then refused to send her means to get back. But he denies her means to get tack. But he denie this. At any rate, during her absence he sued her for a divorce on the groun of adultery, and she made no opposi-tion, further than to have Messrs Montgomery, Earle & Hutchinson lool after her property interests and com-promise at $500.

METHEVER LOSES HOPE. Now that the Supreme Court has af-firmed the judgment of the lower court in the conviction of E. V. Methever for murder in the first degree, the only event of interest to that forlorn indi-vidual is the date of his execution. Judge Smith has decreed that he must hang. His sentence was passed on De cember 2, 1899, and he was to have uted on February 16, 1900, but been executed on February 10, 1200, one his appeal has forestailed his fate for a season.

Meantime Methever has laid in the County Jail, suilen and dejected, hoping against hope. He will talk to no one, and lies in his cell with a blanket over his head.

Within the next thirty days the remittitur will have been returned from the Supreme Court, and the murderer will be at once taken before Judge Smith and a new time set for his hanging. It is probable that he has yet less than sixty days to live. His life must explate one of the monstrous crimes of the section.

Methever is a cobbler, whose last home was in Long Beach. His little shop was in the rear of a bakery kept by a family named McKee. He is now about 60 years old, but he became infatuated with pretty Dorothy. McKee, in her primal twenties, and, when he found no encouragement for his attentions, lealousy filled his being. One July morning, about 5 o'clock, Dorothy and a lady friend mounted their bicycles and rode off down the beach. Methever followed them on his wheel, and overtaking them shot Dorothy twice, and, while the sandy beach was drinking up her life blood, he turned another revolver on himself and shot a charge into his right eye, but, strange to say, the bullet failed to touch the brain and he lived.

At his trial his defense was that he was convicted after a seven days' rial. He has a family in Northern California, but his relations with his wife were strained several years ago. His son, a grown young man, as-sisted him in his defense.

Every precaution is taken lest the condemned man may try to cheat the gallows by self-destruction.

in her complaint, she owned two lots in Santa Monica worth $9000. At the in Santa Monica worth 19000. At the time she was temporarily beside herself and unable to do business, when C. M. Kirgens is alleged to have approached her with an absolute deed to the property and induced her to sign it for $2900. She says that her legal adviser, J. T. Kirgens, advised her to do so, but now she wishes to rescind, and has given notice to Kirgens to that effect, tendering him his $2000. The court is asked to set aside the deed and effect, tendering him his $2999. The court is asked to set aside the deed and restore the property to the plaintiff. Emma Kiggins and J. L. Brady are also made defendants for the reason that they claim interests in the realty that must have been acquired with knowledge of plaintiff's alleged prior rights.

Youth Who Robbed His Benefactor Arrested Yesterday, and Will Be Sentenced Today-Santa Fe-avenue Fighters Pay the Penalty.

John McGuire had a fond delusion that the police had forgotten him. Last February McGuire robbed a mining man named Lewis Downs of 572, and immediately skipped. Yesterday he came back to the city, supposing that the affair had safely blown over, and was promptly nabbed. He was taken before the Police Court during the afternoon, and the police allowed him to plead guilty to petty larceny. Mad McGuire denied guilt and put the State to the expense of a prosecution, the charge would have een made grand larceny.

One day he stopped Downs on the street and asked him for the price of a street and asked him for the price of a meal. Downs had just come in from the mines with a pocket full of money and a heart full of pity. McGuire is only a boy, not more than 18, and he had a hard-luck story that must have been a wonder.

Downs not only gave up the price of a meal, but invited the boy to come home with him, and be his guest until his luck turned. Downs was staying at the National Hotel. He took McGuire there for dinner and afterward he shared Downs's room.

In the morning when Downs woke up, he found that he was alone. McGuire and Downs's purse, which contained about $72, had gone together. When McGuire was arrested yesterday he was still carrying Downs's pocketbook in his pocket.

McGuire will be sentenced today in the Police Court.

They at first refused to pay. They said that, for one thing, the man in the case was an agent and furthermore, they had not paid him any rebate. Nevertheless the fine was issisted upon and the underwriters threatened to take away the agency from the plaintiffs.

Phelps & Girdiestone finally paid the fine, but under protest. They appealed to the executive committee of the underwriters. The committee gave the plaintiffs hope to live on, but did not remove the penalty.

tious drillers! These same operators are now engaged in a heated difference with the casing in the company's well on the hill northwest of the Palms. A report from the plant is that the drill has been sent down 908 feet, and that while ho oil has been found, the gas pressure is increasing as the drill goes deeper.

Several days ago the showing was such that an early find was predicted. Thus encouraged, the operators commenced sending the casing down with all possible speed. So anxious were they to complete the hole by the first of this week that they allowed the casing to crook, and as a result work has been at a standstill for several days.

The drill is in blue clay, said to be similar to that found in the Rommel and Rodeo wells, in the same extension. It is expected that the fate of the section will be decided within the next ten days, as the operators expect to begin drilling today.

HOME FIELD NOTES.

Another good well has been completed by the Oceanic Oil Company in the Sisters' Hospital grounds. It is the company's No. II, and is said to be one of the best drilled. When a landing was made Monday there was 25 feet of oil sand in the hole, all free from water traces. It will be hitched up today, and will be pumping by the end of the week.

The new well of the Uncle Sam Oil Company, which was sent in to the second sand on the Hardison-Hardison tract, promises to settle down to one of the strong producers of the local field. It started off with over 200 barrels, and the prospects are that it will prove a steady 160-barrel producer.

This hole adjoins the property of the Lincoln Oil Company, which was the first operator in that end of the field the prospects are that it will prove a steady 160-barrel producer.

will be the Ogark Oil Development Company, of which B. M. Blythe of Long Beach is president. Those who have examined the territory report that the surface indications are in many respects similar to the Newhall field and give greater evidence of richness.

AROUND NEWHALL.

In the numerous corners of the Newhall field much new development work is done in a quiet way. A little east of the town the new well of the Santa Ana Oil Company continues to be a flowing example of the productiveness of that part of the growing field. When struck two weeks ago it started off with a production of over one hundred barrels, and is now good for eighty at least. Much encouraged by the success the company has made arrangements to drill several other holes at one carry date.

In the plant of the Commercial company there is great expectation. The drill has gone in 935 feet, and an early strike would not surprise the operators.

The water we found to be as good as any on the desert, and it would undoubtedly be running yet but for the cave-in. The men taid us that there was a puff of gas octasionally from the hole, but that no oil had yet been found. I think the well is in the best location for oil that I ever saw on the desert. The different formations and measures look as if there were a basin there, while in some other portions the sandrock strata hava the appearance of being perpendicular. There is shale, sandrock and shells in large quantities, and if these are any indication of oil, that ought to be there in large quantities, to."

drawing room. The bride wore a gown of white taffeta silk, with an overdress of white chiffen, elaborately trimmed with duchess lace. Her long tulle vell was held in place with a bouquet of natural grange blossoms. She was attended by her sister, Miss Camilla Heilman, who was maid of honor, and the bridesmalds were Miss Rose Maler and Miss Ray Cohn. The attendants wore pink silk gowns, trimmed with white chiffon. Lucille Heilman was ringbearer. After the service an elaborate dinner was served in the large dining room. The table was decorated with several yards of pink satin ribbons, pink carnations and asparagus plumosus. The centerplece consisted of a ministure floral ship. The place cards were of white settin ribbon, handsomely decorated. The wedding was quietly celebrated, only relatives and a few friends being present. The bride is one of Los Angeles's most popular young society ladies, and the many handsome gifts received testified to the esteem in which she is held by her friends here. During her visit abroad several months ago she met her husband. Mr. and Mrs. Stern will leave soon for Berlin to reside permanently.

Change in the Law Making it a Felony

Has Had Little Effect Upon Bicycle Thieves. In spite of the fact that the theft of a bicycle is now a felony, hardly a day passes but the loss of one or more wheels is reported to the police. The number reported stolen is not as large as it was last fall, when there appeared to be an organized gang of bicycle thieves here, but the thefts are cycle thieves here, but the thickness still numerous enough to keep some of the members on the detective force busy examining the wheels which have been purchased by second-hand deal-

Three thefts of bicycles were reported yesterday and two of the wheels were old ones. Two were taken from where their owners had left them at the curb and the third from the basement of a business block. Since the new law went into effect one man has been held to answer for bicycle stealing and is now in jail. The detectives assert that it is their intention to vigorously prosecute all persons arrested for such thefts. It is impossible for the court to reduce the charge against an accused to petry larceny under the new law, because the statute now expressly state that the theft of a bicycle is grand larceny. It makes no difference if the wheel is so old that it is about to fall to pieces.

[Kansas City Journal:] "The El Dorado (Kan.) Republican" rejoices that it has been able to live its days in a town that "is never coarse, vulgar or slomicky." It admits that in the early days it was quite the fashion to snuff the candle at bedtime with a revolver, and that it was not 'considered impolite "for one to ride into a saloon and take one's drinks on horseback," but it insists that the revolvers were always silver mounted, and that the horseback feat was almost a necessity, because people didn't have the time to dismount and hitch. "The town," it adds, "has always played poker, but it does it on carpeted fioors, with genuine ivory chips, while the high art pictures on the walls are sufficiently draped so as not to offend the eye of the stranger. The town was never a four fusher. [Kansas City Journal:] "The El

SANTA BARBARA COUNTY. BEETS REPORTED DESTROYED. SANTA BARBARA, March 26.—Reg-ular Correspondence.] A report was brought to town today from Lompoc that 600 acres of beets out of about 1200 planted on the mesas near there were totally destroyed by blowing sand. The report is thought to be much exaggerated, as the soil of the mesas has never been known to drift to any great extent. In that section last year the finest beets handled by the factory at Bettoravia were grown. SANTA BARBARA BREVITIES.

According to the reports of the Johnston Fruit Company twice as much citrus fruit has been shipped so far this season as for the correspond-ing period last year. Twenty-four car-loads of lemons and oranges have been sent East since November 1. This does not comprise the total output of the house, as several large shipments have been made for the Coast trade.

RIVERSIDE, March 26.—(Regular Correspondence.) Superintendent Hyatt is conducting the County Teachers' Institute, which opened at the High School building yesterday, on somewhat novel lines, in that there is no fixed programme. In a characteristic and happily-worded address Mr. Hyatt set forth his reasons for trying, for variety, an institute without a set programme, and see what each day may bring forth. The pleasures of anticipation are greater than those of possession. Mr. Augsburg, director of drawing in the Cakiand schools, made the principal talk yesterday on "Methods of Teaching Drawing in the Schools." The real work of the institute commenced today.

Netherlands. Netherlands.

The most interesting of the cases in dispute is that of the James Hamilton Lewis, since Russia set up by implication at least the defense that this vessel was seized at a distance of about five miles fro mthe Russian shore. In as much as the jurists have hitherto sustained the three-mile limit as the extreme boundary of jurisdiction of coasts, and Russia has never publicly asserted an intenting of claiming more, Mr. Pierce seems to have successfully combatted this plea, not to mention the fact that no proof was offered by Russia that the vessel was engaged in sealing off the Russian coast.

The Lewis, sailing from San Francisco, was selzed on August 2, 1891, taken to Vladiyostok and confiscated. At the momest of seizure she was twenty miles from Copper Island, the nearest Russian territory. It is the claim of the United States that she had never during the entire voyage been within Russian jurisdiction. The most interesting of the cases in joyful way, so that no one could suspect: "How much to get into your dance?"

"Twenty-five cents each," said Mrs. Morrison.

"For two," said one of the deputies. Then they went inside and fell into the hands of a squatty little man with an imposing ribbon badge and a mighty flood of geniality. It was very cold at that particular place last night, and the dance was a frost in more ways than one. It was enough to dampen the spirits of any floor manager. The geniality that this little man might develop if he were feeling just right and the night were balmy and the music were caresising, is something awful to contemplate.

He shouted "hello" to the tax deputies, and said he bet their wives didn't know where they were, and cordially offered to introduce them to the lady who used to do a dance in the "Why is a Cow" lay-out.

The deputies stayed for awhile and witnessed one of the most desperate dances that eger took place. Its horror rors have already been described in thrilling detail by reporters of refined instincts for the evening papers.

Honest, the man who wrote "From the Ballroom to Hell" couldn't find anything wicked about this dance. The only thing shocking about it was the young beau who tried to chew gum anything wicked about this dance. The only thing shocking about it was the young beau who tried to chew gum and a toothpick at the same time. This is the height of bad manners at a dance. Either chew your gum or let your lady chew your gum while you chew the toothpick.

The deputies were somewhat exercised by the fact that a reporter was present.

"What is the use of publishing this now?" they said. "This is not a public matter. This is only a little private matter."

And they sailed off with dignity into the night.

HOG STICKING, The Cincinnati
Price Current says' there has been a decided shrinkage in the packing of hogs, the number killed in the West during the past week amounting to 255,000, compared with 500,000 the preceding week, 400,000 during the corresponding week a year ago, 355,000 two years ago. The total number of hogs handled since March 1 is 635,000, against 455,000 during the same time a year ago—showing a reduction of 50,000. The quality of the hogs received is about the same as last week, generally fairly good. The price of hogs continues strong, the average for western markets at the close being about 10 cents per 100 pounds higher than a week ago and nearly 75 cents higher than a year.

The provision markets have shown

DRIPD FRUITS DULL. The Sebastopol Times is authority for this:
"James Ross purchased from two local Chinamen four tons of dried apples, the price being 1 cent a pound. For this fruit 7½ cents per pound was refused some time ago. At present there is no activity in the apple market, and many of the growers who refused to sell when good figures were offered cannot now dispose of their fruit at any price."

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS.

WONT EMPLOY GIRLS. Julius Scholten is the head of a great tea house in St. Louis. He employs a total of 118 persons, and there is not a girl or woman among them all. In an interview on the subject Mr. Scholten discharging some of my men and boys and putting some of my men and boys and putting women and girls in their places. But I would not do it. I have no right to do it, and I have no inclination to do it, I do not care to get rich that way. The men I employ are paid enough to enable them to become providers for people dependent upon them. Their mothers and sisters are not compelled to work.

There is not an employe in my office who is paid less than $75 a month. I start a capable young man out at $60 a month. He is worth that to me. My stenographer is worth to me what I pay him—$75 or $100 a month. Horset which. I could put a good capable girl in he place for $49 a month. But I would not do it. If I did I would destroy his field of usefulness and divest him af his power to be a provider. A man cannot have a family and be much of a provider on $10 a week.

I have no criticism to make upon business men who do employ women and girls. That is their business. Neither have I any criticism to make upon houses which pay their employes less than they can comfortably live on. That, too, is their business. Occasionally, though, I do wonder whether such people enjoy getting rich in that way.

[Kansas City Journal:] "The El Dorado (Kan.) Republican" rejoices that it has been able to live its days in a town that "is never coarse, vulgar or slomicky." It admits that in the early days it was quite the fashion to snuff the candle at bedtime with a revolver, and that it was not considered impolite "for one to ride into a saloon and take one's drinks on horseback," but it insists that the revolvers were always silver mounted, and that the horseback feat was almost a necessity, because people didn't have the time to dismount and hitch. "The town," it adds, "has always played poker, but it does it on carpeted floors, with genuine ivory chips, while the high art pictures on the walls are sufficiently draped so as not to offend the eye of the stranger. The town was never a four flusher. Another commendable characteristic of the place is that it is clean. It never neglects to regularly that it has been able to live its days clean. It never neglects to regularly wash and scrub itself and change its lingerie or its linen. While it seeks first the kingdom of heaven, it gets itself ready to be a successful seeker by a vigorous application of soap and water. Drummers say the town buys more high-priced soap than any other place in the State." place in the State."

The following transfers are shown in the list: Nine in the First Ward, eleven in the Second, twenty-seven in the Third; thirteen in the Fourth, seven in the Fifth. It will be seen that a fraction less than 32 per cent. of the total registrations in the city have been made in the Third Ward. The figures also show that over 40 per cent. of the total number of transfers have been made to this ward. NOVEL TEACHERS INSTITUTE.
RIVERSIDE, March 26.—[Regular Correspondence.] Superintendent Hyatt is conducting the County Teachers' Institute, which opened at the High School building yesterday, on somewhat novel lines, in that there is no fixed programme. In a characteristic and happily-worded address Mr. Hyatt set forth his reasons for trying, for variety, an institute without a set programme, and see what each day may bring forth. The pleasures of anticipation are greater than those of possession. Mr. Augsburg, director of drawing in the Oakland schools, made the principal talk yesterday on "Methods of Teaching Drawing in the Schools." TREASURE BAG GONE.

Pierce, counsel for the United States in the arbitration over the selz-ure by Russian warships of American scaling vessels, has submitted his ar-gument to the arbiter, 'M. The most interesting of the cases in dispute is that of the James Hamilton dispute is that of the James Hamilton Lewis, since Russia set up by implicution at least the defense that this vessel was seized at a distance of about five miles fro mthe Russian shore. In as much as the jurists have hitherto sustained the three-mile limit as the extreme boundary of jurisdiction of coasts, and Russia has never publicly asserted an intention of claiming more, Mr. Pierce seems to have successfully combatted this plea, not to mention the fact that no proof was offered by Russia that the vessel was engaged in sealing off the Russian coast.

The Lewis, sailing from San Francisco, was seized on August 2, 1891, taken to Vladivostok and confiscated. At the moment of seizure she was At the moment of seizure she was twenty miles from Copper Island, the nearest Russian territory. It is the claim of the United States that she

The accident happened as the children were going home from school. Thirty of them stopped to see the men putting to the Hawthorne sewer. The children, watched the men blow up some hardpan, and some of the boys thought if would be fun to get some of the stoks and see what they could do with them.

No one saw the boys take the stick of dynamite, but the crowd of children went down the street to a sand pile and commenced to experiment with the explosive. Kozominski stood on two bricks between which was placed the dynamite. Lowiskovi, after trying divers other measures to produce an explosion, pounded the brick with a piece of iron. There was a report. Kozominski and Lowiskovi received the worst injuries, while all the others were more or less burned and bruised.

Shooting-match Troubled.

The "Lion's Den," out by Westlake, was raided agoin last night. This time it was the Tax Collector who exercised his official indignation.

It was one of the politest raids in history. The Tax Collector did not start out on his deadly career of reform in the bold and strident manner of the police. He administered the death blow to the dance hall with a sweet, smiling grace.

Two deputies were sent out from the Tax Collector's office with a city ordinance just exhumed from somewhere to say that it would cost the "Westlake Social Club" 320 a night to trip the light fantastic. They might have stopped the dance when the cash was not forthcoming. But they did not. They said the "Westlake Social Club" could think it over until this morning at 8 o'clock. Then they went out into the night and the band played on.

The section upon which the Tax Collector bases his raid reads:
"Sec. 22.—For every person, firm or corporation who owns, keeps or conducts any public dance house or public bail room, to per day, to per month, or $150 per quarter."

The "Westlake, Social Club" was left on the verge of tears. The "Westlake, Social Club" is mostly a small, darkeyed little woman with a Cockney accent and plenty of troubles. Her name is Mrs. Morrison. She runs the Llons and the dance hall.

First they had her arrested because her lions sent out unseemly roars on the night and troubled the dreams of all the cows in the neighborhood. The they had her arrested because her lions sent out unseemly roars on the night and troubled the dreams of all the cows in the neighborhood. Then one of the evening papers, with her dance hall was a real shocking the last straw.

"Isn't it awful?" asked Mrs. Morrison, when the deputies had wended their way out of the front door in solemn state. "I wish I were dead;
that's what I wish."

"I jude knew they were reporter or something when they came in," she said, tragically.

The two deputies came in early in the evening, but considerately waited until I o'clock before proceeding to paralyze the "Westlake Social Club."
Their entrance was a deeply mysterious affair. They came up to the counter and one of them said, in a light and joyful way, so that no one could suspect: "How much to get into your dance?"

"Twenty-five cents each," said Mrs.
Morrison.

"For two," said one of the deputies.

"Twenty-five cents each," said Mrs. Morrison.

"For two," said one of the deputies. Then they went inside and fell into the hands of a squatty little man with an imposing ribbon badge, and a mighty flood of gentality. It was very cold at that particular place last night, and the dance was a frost in more ways than one. It was enough to dampen the spirits of any floor manager. The gewilality that this little man might develop if he were feeling just right and the night were balmy and the music were caressing, is something awful to contemplate.

He shouted "hello" to the tax deputies, and said he bet their wives didn't know where they were, and cordially offered to introduce them to the lady who used to do a dance in the "Why is a Cow" lay-out.

The deputies stayed for awhile and witnessed one of the most desperate dances that eger took place. Its horrors have alfrayd been described in only thing snocking about it was the young beau who tried to chew gum and a toothpick at the same time. This is the height of bad manners at a dance. Either chew your gum or jet your lady chew your gum while you chew the toothpick.

The deputies were somewhat exercised by the fact that a reporter was present.

"What is the use of publishing this now?" they said. "This is not a public matter. This is only a little private matter."

And they sales to the hight.

It will be impossible to run the dance if the tax has to be paid. Last night there were hardly enough dancers to pay expenses without the tax.

It is possible that the "social club" will attempt to get around the point

A brief telegram was received from the customs officers in San Francisco yesterday, who, it is believed, were outwitted by a clever smuggler. The message notified the local officers to waylay the car in which the prunes were shipped from South Africa be not shipped and search it. According to this telegram the prunes were shipped from South Africa by Joseph Van Zandt, knewn as a speculator, but not supposed to be interested in the prune market. After Van Zandt had salled for San Francisco with his consignment, the customs officers became suspicious, and arrested Van Zandt was arrested his goods were confiscated and a search instituted. He complained so loudly that, his consignment was being ruined and that the charge had been made by his former partner through spite that he at last succeeded in convincing the customs officers and was released.

Among other societies that have cooperated with the Woman's Municipsy League and that may be considered under the category of civic, political or patriotic leagues, I may mention

It has a reference library for the benefits of its members, and it conducts investigations in the various Assembly districts with the view of studying the moral and social forces of the city. It pleads for the study of the city charter, the tenement-house laws, the school system, taxation and raising of revenue, and the methods of the municipal courts. It advises a closer knowledge of the work of the public departments, of the police, charities, education, fire and street-cleaning service in one's own election district.

A SAMPLE "CLUB OF CLUBS."

The so-called department club, which Jennie June calls a "club of clubs." has grown greatly in importance. Among the best-known of these is the Chicago Womans Club. In that club there are six departments—reform, home, education, philanthropy, art and literature, philosophy and science. In each department own is carried on along verybroad lines. For instance, included in the department of education are the visits paid to public schools, decorations for schoolrooms and of special methods of pedagogy, establishment of various schools and playgrounds. The members choose whichever department they prefor for work; each department they prefor for work; each department thas its own standing committees and its own programme. Several suuriliary societies have been formed as an outcome of the work done by the woman's club. Among these may be mentioned the Protective Agency for Women and Children, the School Children's Aid Society, the Ghicago Public School Art Society, the Chicago Public In Club as nearly 250 members enrolled. These women, if Isolated, could do little individually to arouse the public conscience on matters that pertain to the public welfare, but bound together as they are by the ties of the club, they are a force in the community that must be reckoned with.

CLUBS HAVING A SPECIFIC OB-

In the larger cities in the East the clubs are usually formed for one defi-nite purpose; they do not combine the nite purpose; they do not combine the various departments that are to be found in those organized in the smaller towns or in the larger cities of the West. In New York a large number of women's leagues or associations have oeen organized, not for general culture, but for a specific object. The successful accomplishment of the object in view has led to the formation of similar organizations in other cities. ject in view has led to the formation of similar organizations in other cities, until today there is a great network of these associations spread all over the country. Sometimes they become affiliated and grow into national movements. Among these may be named the National Congress of Mothers Clubs, the National Consumers' Clubs, the National Consumer's League, the National Household Economic Association, the National Women's Temperance Union, the National Council of Jewish Women and the National League of Women Workers.

The Consumers' League has aroused mothers to the dangers of purchasing clothing mode in sweatshops and teneof cellars; they sought the cooperation of public officials and private house of public officials and private house-holders, and endeavored to raise a higher standard in the community. Through the art department, the club instituted a system of loan collections and of pictures for schools. It decorated the schoolrooms with appropriate photographs and casts. The club was invited to cooperate with the Anti-Spoils League, but the women declined, because as citizens they had no political status. The National Civil-Service Reform Association invited the club to send delegates to its conclothing mode in sweatshops and tenement hovels, thus bringing germs of infectious diseases into the homes. It has pointed out that through the ignorance or carelessness or indifference of the consumers manufacturers and merchants have been permitted to shirk all responsibility in the matter. It has shown that before there is a supply of anything there must be a demand for it and that if mothers desire wholesome garments and foods for their children they must create the demand for them. G JOSLEN, M. D., or DR JOSLEN & CO Cor. Third and Main Streets.

The Woman's Health Protective Association, of which there are now twelve in different cities, began life in New York under difficulties. Its first effort was directed against the old, abominable slaughter houses—flithy wooden structures, where the slaughtering was carried on with open doors in the presence of spectators, who were usually the children of the neighborhood. There were no decent quarters for the cattle before they were slaughtered; they were carried into stifling and fetid cellars, where they could be seen clambering over one another in vain attempts to get a whiff of fresh sir. The result of the women's efforts was the substitution eventually of splendid modern abattors. This society has successfully protested against the maintenance of stationary scows at docks filled with offensive matter, against unnecessary conditions of streets, against unwise disposal of garbage, against illegal blocking of streets, against unwise disposal of streets at night by trucks which were used by tramps as shelters, and against the unsanitary and disgusting hable of expectorating in cars and on the floors of public buildings.

FOR BETTER CITY GOVERNMENT.

Taking the New York organizations more especially, though only as examples of the many similar ones throughout the country, a brief sketch of their origin may be given. The Woman's Municipal League of New York, Mrs. I. N. Phelps Stokes president, was organized in the suggestion of the Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst. Its object was to assist in bringing into power a reform administration at the time of the Mayoralty campaign of 1895. The league raised money among the women of the city, held parlor meetings and meetings in small halls in the downtown districts, where the benefits of good city government were explained. After the election the league disbanded, but was reorganized in 1897. During the Mayoralty campaign of that year it raised 3900 entirely from women to aid the Citizens' Union movement. It arranged two large and successful mass meetings that were held in vention, but the club maintained that, as its members were disfranchised citizens, it could not do so with dignity. The women of the West End Woman's Republican Association of New York have taken an entirely different attitude; although given no recognition by the Republican party, they have united for the purpose of maintaining and strengthening the principles of that party. The first year that the club was organized it devoted itself to the study of Fisk's "Civil Government," Bryce's "American Commonwealth," Gunton's "Wealth and Progress," and other standard works. The club conducted an active campaign in favor of the gold standard and protection in 1896. The members visited the tenement-houses in the Tammany districts, discussed the questions at issue with about 15,000 women and 2000 men, and distributed over 200,000 pamphlets published in many languages.

The National League of Women Workers is composed of five associations, with a membership of about 100 clubs. These clubs have as their object "to secure, by cooperation, means of self-support, opportunities for social intercourse, and the development of higher, nobler aims." Practically, they offer a desirable meeting place with a home atmosphere, organize classes for technical training and mental culture, and provide the members with good books.

CLUB MOVEMENT AT ITS BEST.

CLUB MOVEMENT AT ITS BEST.

Is it not clear that these and the many similar organizations have been a means of leading the women out of the narrow paths that lay between high walls of prejudice and ignorance into the open field where they can have an extended horizon? The wominto the open field where they can have an extended horizon? The woman's club movement, originating with Sorosis, the seed-sows, has become an effectual medium for the propagation of ideas and principles that affect the welfare of humanity. There may be some women who, like Selma in "Unleavened Bread," use the clubs for selfish purposes of advancement, but as Herbert Spencer well says: "Societies, in their actions and structures, are determined by the mental character of their units." The club that is made up of weak characters cannot develop strength as a club, and it is unfortunately true that many weak and foolish women's clubs exist. But the work that has been done by other organizations gives ample proof that there is a living strength somewhere behind the movement.

The club which will be developed by the twentieth century in its full strength will be composed, let us hope, of both men and women. There is no reason why the two sexes should not work side by side for mental development, mutual recreation and mutual service. The New England Woman's Club, one of the earliest and best known of such organizations, started originally with men among the members, as well as women. The Consumers' League and the League for Polltical Education, although organized and pers, as wein as women. The Consumers' League and the League for Political Education, although organized and governed by women, have, with broader generosity than is usual among the other sex, permitted men to join the membership. The Social Reform Club, the Nineteenth Century Club, the Barnard Club, the National Arts Club, all of New York, and the Twentieth Century Club of Boston, are among those that include both sexes among their members.

This, to my mind, is the club that will give the best opportunity for growth, culture and progress, the club that will be productive of results that can only be obtained by the coöperation and intelligent sympathy of both men and women. It is the club of the future, and its motto might well be:
'In great things unity, in small things liberty, in all things charity."

The Corona plaint is not yet husned. The Corona Exchange has 100 carloads of navels so ripe they should be rushed to the market at once. Three or four cars a day have been as many as could be had, but yesterday seven cars were set for loading at the depot. The time made East is better, too, varying this week from eight to twelve days as to destination. One of the officers of an exchange said: "The sending of a shipment by water to Puget Sound and therice by the Hill roads has had an excellent moral effect."

"A day or two ago a prosperous business man from a large eastern city stepped up to the ticket office at the Arcade and said to the clerk: "Have three seats in the chair car to Santa Barbara been reserved for Mr. Comfort?"

"No," said the clerk, "we do not run a chair car on the Santa Barbara train."

"We strike it raw when we get off the Atchison." retorted Mr. Comfort. Exchange has 100 carloads of navels so

FALSE ALARM TO WORKERS.

Jawsmith's Attempt to Form Labor Trust.

The Fact is Labor is in Demand Here.

Employers Say Help of Many Kinds is Hard to Find.

According to the Los Angeles Council of Labor, which arrogantly styles itself the "representative body of the workingmen of this city." when in fact it represents but a small proportion of the real workingmen hereabouts, Los Angeles is "overrup with mechanics is "overrup with mechanics." Angeles is "overrun with mechanics and laborers in almost every line of trade." The following pronunciamento biasoned with the glaring headlines, "No Scarcity of Laborers in Southern has recently been pub

"The workingmen of this city, through their representative body, the Council of Labor, desire to earnestly protest against the statements so often published in the press of this city and vicinity, that there is a scarcity of laborate in this part of the State and borers in this part of the State, and that there is more demand for artisans and mechanics than supply.

"Such statements are entirely erus, and to a certain extent, criminess and depend upon others of their craft for the support of them-selves and families.

"At the meeting of the Council of Labor last Wednesday evening a census of the different unions showed that this matter is assuming alarming pro-portions, and it was decided to appeal to the press to publish this letter and to give as wide a publicity as possible to the fact that Los Angeles is over-run with mechanics and laborers in almost every line of trade."

A FALSE NOTE.

The casual reader might lafer from this note of warning that Los Angeles is in the throes of an industrial panic, and that Southern California is about the worst place in the world that a workingman could emigrate to. On the contrary, large employers of labor say there never was a time in recent years when good and satisfactory help was harder to get than now, and wages are about as good, cost of living and advantages of climate considered, as in any other part of the country for the same cleases of work. A FALSE NOTE.

any other part of the country for the same classes of work.

It is true that there is little or no employment here for certain kinds of artisans and mechanics, but the common trades practiced here and the ranks of the common laborers are no more crowded in this city and vicinity at the present time than elsewhere in the rountry. In fact, the employment agencies have difficulty in supplying all the demand that is made upon them for workmen.

NOT OVERRUN.

"It is not true that Southern California is overrun with mechanics needed in the building trades," said the secretary of the Builders' Exchange yesterday. "The fact of the matter is that contractors have difficulty in getting all the carpenters have difficulty in getting all the carpenters have difficulty in getting all the carpenters work in supplying the property of the said he usually finds work for all who apply for it, but the number of applications is falling off, showing that there are not so many idle men now as there were some time ago. know of a dozen contractors, at least, who would employ more men if they could get the right sort. We don't want to advertise for men to come here from other places to seek work, but there is no occasion at the present time to send out warnings for mechanics and laborers to keep away from here, for the conditions of the labor market are certainly better now than they have been for several years past. There are pinty of men around here who would be willing to take the jobs paying the best wages, but the trouble is many of them are not competent to fill the places. Contractors and employers do not like to give the poor workman the same wages paid the man who does his work better and more of it in the same time. But the unions want to force us to pay the union scale regardless of the character of service given. That is one reater of service given. That is one rea-son why members of the Council of Labor object to seeing more workmen come in. They want to create and

"A month or six weeks from now you will hear such a how! about the scarcity of laborers as has never before been heard in this part of the country," said one of the Hummer Bros. & Co., scaployment agents. "Even now we cannot promptly supply sill the calls we get for help, and when the crops begin to ripen and the numerous development works now in project and which will be pushed shead this summer get well under way. I fail to see where enough laborers can be had. We have orders now for carpenters at $1 a day, blacksmiths at $2 a day and board, ranch help at $25 to $30 a month, milkers at $30 to $35 a month and found, and cannot get the men fast enough to fill the places. Still there are idle men around here, but that is their own fault. Some will not work steady if they have a chance. Some will not work except under the direction of this or that union, and that is their own fault. Some will not work steady if they have a chance. Some will not work except under the direction of this or that union, and that is their own fault. Some will not work steady if they have a chance. Most of them want jobs right here in town or not at all. No, str, Southern California is not overrun with willing workers now, and it is misleading to send out warnings to worknien to stay away. The chances for steady work at good wages are just as good now and even better than they have been for several years."

PLENTY OF WORK. "I like to see plenty of work and plenty of men to do it," said Manager Hansen of Hansen & Co., employment plenty of men to do it," said Manager Hansen of Hansen. & Co., employment agents, "but at the present time it looks like plenty of work and few workmen. When the Council of Labor sends out word that there are enough men here already to do all the work in sight, it is misrepresenting the true condition of the labor market. On Monday, which is usually our best day, we wanted five carpenters, three painters and three blacksmiths, and couldn't get them. We have difficulty in filling our orders for kitchen help in the city promptly, and as for supplying the orders we get for ranch hands, teamsters and men to work in the situation seems to be getting worse instead of better. The complaint has not yet become general, but I predict that it will by, the time the big harvest ripens and some of the big Jobs scheduled for this summer get started. We have placed some of our orders for laborers with our San Francisco house, but the conditions are about the same there, and they could not fill our or-

SOME BIG JOBS. Mr. Hansen named as some of the jobs which would furnish employment time to come the following: San Pedro breakwater; Chatsworth Park tunnel, reconstruction of Southern Pacific's Ventura and Santa Barbara line; reconstruction of Southern Pacific's Yuma line, irrigation works at Corona, irrigation works, canals and tunnels in San Diego county for the Spreckels company; development in the oil districts, construction of California Eastern Railroad, breakwater quarries at Chatsworth Park and Decles, street and electric railway imgrovements and extensions. Salt Lake Railroad construction, mines, orchards, ranches and dairies. San Francisco and Los Angeles would be drawn upon to furnish most of this labor, he said, and from the present outlook it would be difficult to get enough men to fill the demand. There was a large class of roving and unsteady labor which could not be depended upon in emergencies. Good, steady men were in good demand at good wages.

BETTER DEMAND.

"There is a better demand now for labor than there has been before in three years," said the manager of Reid & Co.'s Employment Agency. "We can't begin to supply all the orders we receive for ranch hands and teamsters, and for work in the country generally. The wages are $25 to $30 a month and board, but it is hard to get men to work at those figures. It will be impossible, judging from the present outlook, to supply enough men to handle all the crops this summer. There are probably enough mechanics to do all the skilled work required, but common labor is scarce. We can as a rule supply men for work in town on short order, but it is hard to get men to take places in the country, where living expenses are just as cheap and the temptations to spend money in disaipation are less. We do not think this is a good time to warn laborers to keep away from Southern California."

GETTING SCARCE.

"Desirable laborers are really get-BETTER DEMAND.

There are men wanted now at Buena Park and in Strawberry Valley, but no carpenters seem to care for the jobs out there. A man just arrived from the East applied here for carpenter work this morning, and I offered to send him to one of these jobs in the country, but he wanted a job in the city and inside of an hour's time he had it. There is plenty of building going on at present and the prospects are good for a continuance for some time to come. Good mechanics can get steady work at $3$ a day, but there are a lot of fellows who call themselves mechanics who are not worth the standard rate of wages. It is this class who find themselves out of work cocasionally and who do most of the kicking about there being too many men for the amount of work to be done."

DEMAND FOR GOOD MEN.

"There's a good demand for good men in the building trades," said a member of the Builders' Exchange. "I know of a dozen contractors, at least, who would employ more men if they could get the right sort. We don't want to advertise for men to come here from other placen to seek work, but there is no occasion at the present time to send out warnings for mechanics and laborers to keep away from here, for the conditions of the labor market are certainly better now than they have been for several years past. There are plinty of men around here who would be willing to take the jobs paying the best wages, but the poor workman the same wages paid the man who does his work better and more of it in the same time. But the your of its the places. Contractors and employers do not like to give the poor workman the same wages paid the man who does his work better and more of it in the same time. But the your of the contractors and employers do not like to give the poor workman the same wages paid the man who does his work better and more of it in the same time. VITALITY RESTORED "CUPIDENE" This Have the Home Beer Jure

Whatever you drink outside, let your home beer be Schlitz. That is pure beer. No bacilli in it -- nothing to make you bilious.

Beer is a saccharine product, and germs multiply rapidly in it. The slightest taint of impurity quickly ruins its healthfulness.

We go to the utmost extremes to prevent that. Cleanliness is a science where Schlitz beer is brewed.

We even cool the beer in plate glass rooms, in nothing but filtered air.

Then we filter the beer. Then we sterilize every bottle.

And Schlitz beer is aged. The beer that makes you bilious is green beer.

When you order beer for your home, get the healthfulness without the harm. Get a pure beer - get an old beer - get Schlitz.

Fiesta Colors Adopted.

The Committee on Decoration of the Executive Committee of the Fiesta met in the rooms of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association last evenmet in the rooms of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association last evening and officially adopted the tri-celors of the fiesta. They are orange, olive and wine. The committee is anxious to have it known that this does not mean yellow, green and red, but the original colors of three of California's staple products. Out of respect to the President the American flag will occupy first place in the decorations for the flesta, and it is officially adopted with the tri-colors. Other work done by the committee was to discuss plans for designs in the street and other decorations. The Executive Committee will meet this evening.

Mocking Bird's Fun.

On Park Grove a mockingbird may be heard every evening, not in the usual dulcet strain of the woods, but usual dulcet strain of the woods, but imitating a neighbor's dog which is left alone in the back yard. The bird shows that it can count three short, barks and change to a long crescendo call, popularly denominated a howl. The dog listens and at times grows indignant at the bird, but the rage of the dog only produces a new shade in the bird's inimitable monologue. That moquour has a sense of fun, and that he would like to take ugly discord and transform it lato harmony, it apparent transform it into harmony, it apparent enough. He may be trying to teach that dog to sing his barks in a new way. Whatever his ambition the music may be heard every evening, and is one of those free concerts which could not fail to delight all lovers of nature.

say, "Pass it on"? Did you ever hear such a good story that you could not resist telling it the first chance you found? It is the same way with us. When fortunate purchases are made, we hasten to tell you about them.

Any piece of good fortune that may come to us is passed

This immense ribbon purchase is one of the best things that has happened in a long while. Of course there is an immense lot of ribbons, but we have no hesitancy in saying that they will all be sold before the close of the week. They are assorted into four big lots, and are just the prettiest ribbons, the most fashionable ribbons and the most desirable ribbons that you can find in the Southwest. It is not necessary to state just how we secured them. It would be of no particular interest to you, and would ealighten our competitors as to our modes of buying. Enough to say that the ribbons are here and that you will be pleased with them.

Another fresh lot added to the big sale. Counters must be cleared. All odds and ends, regardless of cost, are reduced to such extraordinary prices that men are buying whether they need a suit or not.

$9.65 hardly pays for the making, yet we give you a handsome, stylish, durable suit, splendidly made—some worth $15, some worth $16, some worth $20. It's an offer so big, so unusual, so daring that you'd almost doubt it if the hundreds of pleased customers didn't spread the good news. Fancy mixtures, stripes, checks in light or dark effects.
